

FIRE! FIRE!

Lolly stick theatre

You will need:

- cereal or other cardboard box
- scissors
- glue
- sticky tape
- decorations
- pens/pencils
- printer
- lolly sticks

Instructions

Print out the following 3 x A4 pages (people, buildings, flames & smoke)

How to make your lolly stick theatre

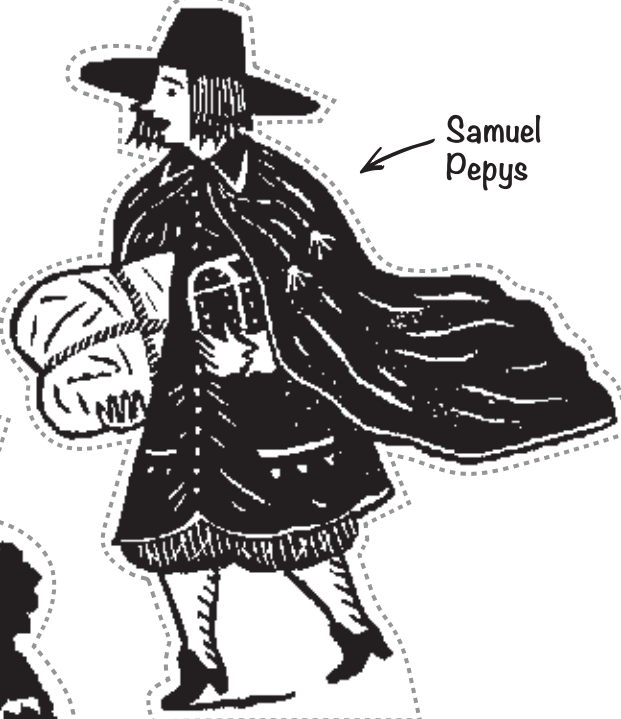

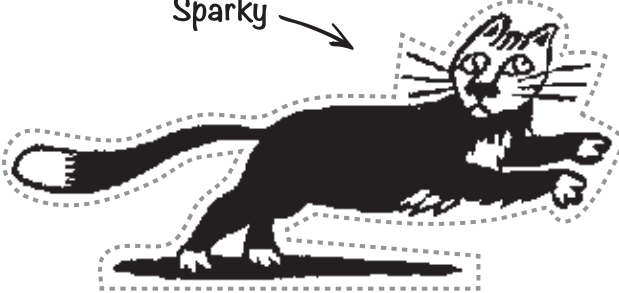

1. Find a cereal box, or any other cardboard box, to use as your theatre and cut a hole in the front leaving at least an inch around the edge as a frame.
2. You can cut 3cm x 10cm slits in the shorter sides to be able to feed through your characters, flames and smoke.
3. You can decorate the box if you wish.
4. If you don't have any lolly sticks, you can use the lolly stick template on page 3 to cut 20 lolly stick shapes out of the piece that you just cut out of your box.

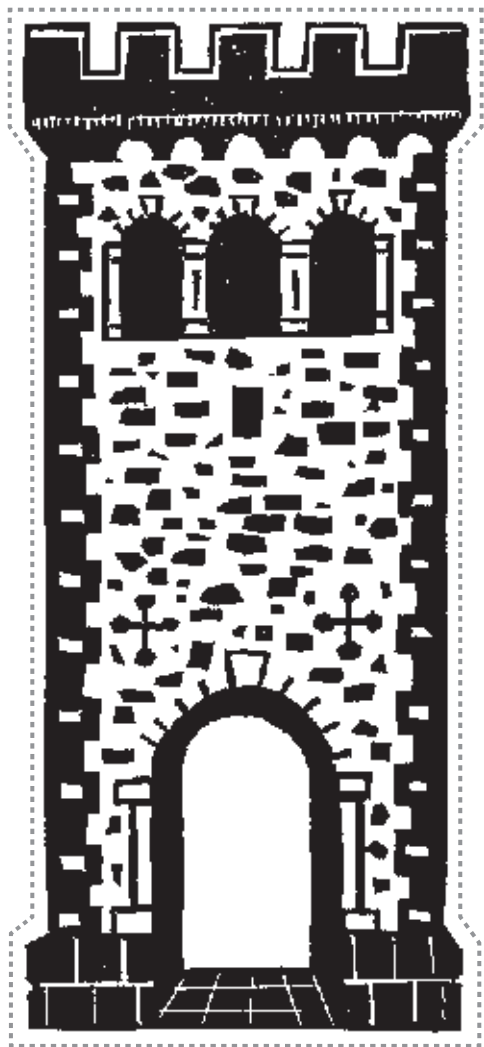

Now for your Great Fire performance!

1. To make your puppet characters and scenes, cut out the people, buildings, flames and smoke (follow the dotted guides on the A4 sheets). Then, stick each cut out item on to a lolly stick using glue or tape.
2. Make up your performance based on your own research. There is lots of information on our Great Fire page:
www.museumoflondon.org.uk/museum-london/great-fire
3. Record your performance and upload it tagging @museumoflondon and using the hashtag #FireFireTheatre.

Remember to think carefully about what you share on social media. We don't take any responsibility for what you share, but we encourage you to only share work that you created yourself, and not to include photos/videos of children or share any personal information.

Sparky →

Lolly stick

