

Museum Development London Skills Plus Training: Roots and Branches Carbon Literacy Training

What will be covered?

Carbon Literacy is a term used to describe an awareness of climate change, and the climate impacts of mankind's everyday actions. Carbon Literacy is the knowledge and capacity required to create a positive shift in how mankind lives, works and behaves in response to climate change.

This Carbon Literacy course uses the new Museums' Carbon Literacy Toolkit and is comprised of 4 modules. Participants will need to successfully complete all 4 modules in order to receive a certificate of Carbon Literacy from the Carbon Literacy Project.

Module 1: Duration 1hr 30mins, to be completed independently between 16 June and 22 June 2022

We ask that you watch a pre-recorded introductory video and a documentary. This will give an overview of the Carbon Literacy course and the science and facts about climate change. In the Introduction, you will be asked some prompts to consider when watching the documentary. This will prepare you for the second module (Thursday 23rd June) and third and fourth modules (Thursday 30th June) which will be delivered live on Zoom.

At the end of the session, you will be asked to choose an object that speaks to you about climate change in preparation for the live session via Zoom on the Thursday 23rd June.

The link for the pre-recorded video will be sent to you in advance, along with your booking confirmation, along with a link to the documentary.

Module 2: Duration 2hrs 30mins, live via zoom

The second session is at 10am until 12.30pm on Thursday 23rd June 2022 (includes short break). This module will focus on the impacts of climate change, equity and vulnerability as well as the roles of museums in tackling the climate crisis and green recovery. You will be asked to reflect on the questions posed in session 1 during the first part of this session.

At the end of the session, you will be asked to prepare for the third session (15th March) by calculating your own carbon footprint (using WWF Carbon Footprint Calculator)

Module 3: Duration 1 hr 45 mins, live via Zoom and Module 4: Duration 1 hr 45 mins, live via Zoom

Taking place on Thursday 30th June, Modules 3 and 4 will be delivered in two parts, with part one from 10am to 11.45am and part two from 1pm to 2.45pm (includes short breaks). The morning session focuses on carbon budgets, the UK and International policy positions, and carbon footprints. The afternoon session is all about action planning and how we talk about climate change with others.

At the end of Module 4, you will be asked to complete your Carbon Literacy participant form. You will have 1 week to complete the form.
