Diversity Matters Programme Grant

2018-2023

Guidance for Applicants

Museum Development London \(MDL\) is pleased to announce the launch of the 2022-2023 Diversity Matters Programme Grant. This guidance document explains the purpose and process of the Diversity Matters Programme (DMP) Grant. Please see below for further information, grant guidance and eligibility.

After reading this document, we recommend you contact Rachael Crofts, Museum Development Officer Audiences, to discuss your proposal before submitting your application to the grants scheme. She is also available to support you in finding artist(s)/group(s) to work with as part of your proposed project as well as project work.

Closing date for applications: 5.00pm on Monday 4 July 2022. Please note applications submitted after this deadline will not be accepted.

Introduction

Given recent global events and the Black Lives Matters movement, this year's programme will once again focus on enabling museums to work with ethnic minority artists/groups. The grants will support projects that enable museums to:

- Work with artists and/or groups from ethnic minority communities to co-curate, co-produce and co-create a public exhibition
- Provide a public platform (through an exhibition) that gives ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s) space to review, reflect and respond to museum collections either by:
 - Enhancing existing collections through a re-visiting collections project, whereby the artist(s)/group(s) responds and reflects on the museum's current themes and objects, or
 - Enabling a contemporary collecting project, which gathers oral testimonies, objects etc. from the artist(s)/group(s) so the museum's collections are up to date and relevant.

If you can answer 'yes' to the following questions the Diversity Matters Programme grant may be for you:

- Does your museum want to create a more diverse collection and exhibition programme for its visitors of all backgrounds?
- Does your museum want to consult and work with (not for or on behalf of) diverse and under-represented groups to develop your collections and exhibitions?

- Would your museum like to co-curate, co-produce and co-create an exhibition with ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s)?
- Would your museum like further funding to work with ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s) to support any of the following work to:
 - Diversify your collections through a contemporary collecting programme initiative/project?
 - Diversify your collections through a revisiting collections initiative/project?
 - Create a co-curated exhibition?
- Will your museum be able to open the exhibition that showcases the work undertaken as part of the project by Sunday 5 March 2023?

If so, MDL would welcome an application and encourage your museum to apply to our Diversity Matters Programme grant.

The grant will be delivered through MDL. We have allocated £6,000 in 2022-2023 to support London's non-national museums to develop and embed their work with ethnic minority communities.

This programme supports Arts Council England's Creative Case for Diversity (CCD) agenda, its Let's Create Inclusivity and Relevance investment principals and its overall Equality Objectives. It will also support emerging diversity practice to enable museums to better reflect the diversity of London and empower its audiences, staff and content creators to feel more represented and want to further engage with museums, collections and public programmes. Each year the programme will be evaluated and the programme will evolve based on feedback we receive from museum staff.

MDL will expect to see the following from our investments over the 5 years:

- An increase in the diversity of collections, audiences, and public programmes
- An increase number of visitors from diverse backgrounds
- An increase in change attitude of visitors from diverse backgrounds who want to engage with a museum

Alongside the grant programme, MDL will also run a training series later in the year to support London's non-national museums to embrace and embed diversity practices. As well as supporting museums to understand ways to increase engagement from people from all backgrounds and protected characteristic groups, it will also support museums to develop meaningful and realistic equality action points for plans going forward. More information on the training series will be available over the coming months.

Year Five (April 2022 - March 2023) Grant Priorities

The Year Five grants will focus on supporting museums to work with ethnic minority artists and groups. It will also prioritise grants that enable museums to diversify its exhibition programme through a contemporary collecting or revisiting collections project. You can find more information and tips on developing a contemporary collecting or revisiting collections project here.

For museums that are unsuccessful in gaining these grants, MDL will be offering 1:1 meetings to signpost alternative sources of funding and provide tips, mentoring and feedback for museums writing bids to support this diversity work.

The grant programme will continue to prioritise grants that support museums in responding and contributing to the CCD agenda in the following ways:

- Including in the planning process the voices of people from ethnic minority backgrounds, particularly those identified within your audience and local borough profiles that are under-represented in your work
- Identifying opportunities for your exhibitions programming team to see new work and engage with artist(s) from ethnic minority groups
- Consulting ethnic minority residents, communities and organisations and involving them in co-curating, co-producing and co-creating your upcoming exhibition(s)
- Developing exhibitions that specifically respond to current diversity issues such as Black Lives Matters, social in-equality, racism, colonial and empire stories
- Collecting objects and oral testimonies that reflect the diversity of your local area (i.e. a contemporary collecting initiative/project)
- Presenting and interpreting existing collections in new ways through working with ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s) to understand how different objects mean different things to different people and to capture and present those multiple perspectives (i.e. a re-visiting collections initiative/project).

As part of the application process, you need to showcase how the museum will:

- Identify the ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s) you plan to work with
- Consult and work with ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s) throughout the process and co-curate, co-produce and co-create the subsequent exhibition together (not for or on behalf of these artist(s)/group(s))
- Work with the ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s) to identify themes/collections/objects for a revisiting collections project and/or the suggested themes/collections/objects that will be captured as part of a contemporary collecting project
- Deliver one public exhibition that showcases the work undertaken as part of the project no later than Sunday 5 March 2023.

If you are unsure whether your project would be eligible, how much detail to provide, or are interested in further support from MDL to develop and plan your project, please do get in with Rachael Crofts, Museum Development Officer Audiences, to discuss your project in more detail.

What sort of projects will be supported?

MDL will prioritise grants that enable museums to work with artist(s)/group(s) from ethnic minority backgrounds to deliver an exhibition and enable the museum to be more representative of its local community. The funding could support a range of projects which enable museums to consult, work with and involve under-represented ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s) and be more representative of London's diverse population, such as:

- Working with ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s) to develop an exhibition, which addresses current events
- Working with ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s) to reflect on your current themes and objects to make your collections more relevant to all communities
- Artistic talent development initiatives that support emerging, midcareer and established artists from ethnic minority backgrounds
- A contemporary collecting practice project (with an associated exhibition to make visitors aware of the project/work)
- Co-curated/created/produced exhibition developed in consultation with ethnic minority artist(s)/group(s)

It is important that all MDL funded projects in Year Five must:

- Consult, work with and involve throughout the process at least one artist/group from an ethnic minority background, and
- Open one public exhibition that showcases the work undertaken as part of the project no later than Sunday 5 March 2023
- Clearly outline the artist(s)/group(s) you will work with, as well as describe how you plan to work with them over throughout the project to co-curate/produce/create the final exhibition as part of the application form.

What type of project expenditure is eligible?

Museums may apply for grants to cover costs relating to:

- Associated project costs (i.e. room hire, travel expenses for participants, refreshments for participants, costs for freelancers, consultants, equipment, materials, and marketing as well as equipment, materials, postage costs and software to deliver sessions/workshops digitally)
- Exhibition costs (i.e. design and printing of any interpretation panels, and installation)
- Acquisition and care of items for the collections (provided they are collected as part of a contemporary collecting practice project with an ethnic minority artist/group) to be displayed in the museum.

What type of project expenditure is not eligible?

- Projects that do not consult, involve or work with at least one ethnic minority artist/group
- Projects that demonstrate little or no potential benefit to under-represented individuals/groups
- Projects that are unable to deliver an exhibition that showcases the work undertaken as part of the project, or this exhibition is delivered on/after Monday 6 March 2023
- Any proportion of regular staff salaries or backfill costs (however, freelance/consultant staff costs will be eligible)
- Publications and research

- Any project started before the applicants have been notified of the outcome of their applications.¹

If you are unsure whether your proposed expenditure would be eligible, please do get in touch with Rachael Crofts, Museum Development Officer, to discuss your proposed project costs in more detail.
