

London Museum Development and Regional Collection Care

Fusion Training: All the Right Moves

Date: 20th July 2022

Time: 10:00-15:30

Location: Mortimer Wheeler House, Hackney

Facilitators/Trainers: Sarah Brown, Collections Trust; Libby Finney and Lauren Speed, Museum of London

What will be covered?

Fusion training will consist of two half day sessions; one which deals with Collection Care and the other which deals with Collection Management. Fusion training is designed for participants to attend both sessions.

Session 1: Location and Movement Control

Location and movement control is a Spectrum 5.0 primary procedure and is required as part of the museum Accreditation standard. Following this procedure keeps your location records up to date, which is the key to being accountable for your collections. This session, led by Sarah Brown (Collections Trust), will explore the requirements of Location and movement control, including your museum's system of naming locations and your procedures for recording movement.

Attendees are requested to bring along their organisation's procedure for Location and movement control, to share and discuss during the session. You will also find it helpful to review this in advance.

Session 2: Packing and Handling

This session, led by Libby Finney, will look at the practicalities of moving objects and collections, and how the packing and handling for moving collections might differ from that undertaken for storing collections. There will be the opportunity to discuss and experience various methods and systems of packing and moving collections, and there will be a practical activity in the stores. With this in mind, delegates should wear flat, robust shoes and layers of clothing as the stores can be cool and participants will be physically interacting with objects and stores. If you are worried that this might pose some difficulties for you, please contact Libby (lfinney@museumoflondon.org.uk) to discuss concerns. A free kit will accompany this session.
