We are committed to ensuring that all our people feel valued and able to be themselves in the workplace; that workforce diversity is achieved at all levels and departments; and that opportunities to work at and develop a career here are open to all. This includes ensuring that our people are paid equally for carrying out the same or equivalent duties. Our data show a pay gap that is driven by a majority of men among the membership of our Executive Board, chaired by Museum Director, Sharon Ament. This affects the differences in both pay rates and bonus pay. In 2018 we developed and introduced a Staff Diversity Strategy – setting out the ways in which we aim to achieve workforce diversity and inclusion at all levels – and in this have made it a strategic priority to increase the representation of female staff at senior management levels.

This data is an accurate picture of the position as at 31 March 2018.
